

The Anomalous Medical Product and Education Development (AMPED) Program is a partnership opportunity for students, teachers, healthcare professionals and organizations to create and distribute their educational Smart Lectures through a personalized Anomalous Medical store.

What is a Smart Lecture?

A Smart Lecture is an educational and instructional slideshow format in Anomalous Medical similar to Power Point or Keynote. The Smart Lecture tools can be used to combine your knowledge and medical expertise with our 3D anatomy models to make presentations you can share or sell.

Getting Started

If you want to start making your own Smart Lectures, you will need to purchase one of our authoring bundles. We currently offer two bundles:

- Premium Smart Lecture Bundle - $150
- Premium Dental Smart Lecture Bundle - $500

The Premium Smart Lecture Bundle comes with the Smart Lecture Tools and the Premium Features. The Premium Dental Smart Lecture Bundle comes with the Smart Lecture Tools, the Premium Features and the Dental Simulations.

Developer Success

We recognized that your success is our success. That's why we provide free training materials, seminars and one-on-one training to help our developers make their first Smart Lecture.

Distribution Fee

We charge a flat $20 fee to distribute each Smart Lecture. This fee covers payment processing, hosting and software development.

Paid Distribution

You set the markup fee to the price at which you wish to sell your Smart Lecture and then we add the $20 distribution fee. The buyer pays the markup plus the $20 fee. We do specify a markup range between $1 to $50, resulting in a retail price range between $21 and $70 for the Smart Lecture. We recommend the retail price of a Smart Lecture to range between $35 and $40.

Markup + Distribution Fee = Retail Price

Our Promise

You will always receive the markup amount you set on the sale of a Smart Lecture. All payment processing fees and operating costs will come out of the $20 distribution fee.

Developer Store

When your first Smart Lecture is completed and you've chosen your distribution method. We will set you up with a personalized Anomalous Medical store. There are no set up fees or subscriptions. Your store is free.

Embedding Your Store

You can embed your Anomalous Medical store into your website. We give you a small piece of code, you can paste it into your website's source code so anyone visiting your site can see what Anomalous Medical products you sell. As you add products or change prices, the embedded store will automatically reflect these changes with no additional work on your part.

Exclusive Distribution

Share your Smart Lecture. You don't have to sell your Smart Lectures. You can give it away to one or more people for free. If the Smart Lecture is part of your course materials, you can include it in the price of tuition. Your customers will receive an invitation code that they can use to download your Smart Lecture. You can purchase the exclusive distributions for a given number of users by paying our $20 distribution fee for each seat you wish to give out.

Getting paid

We use the third-party payment processing company Stripe. You will have to sign up for a free Stripe account and link it to your bank account to receive funds from your sales. You will receive your portion of the paid Smart Lecture sale within 2 business days.

Collecting Sales Tax

Developers are responsible for reporting state and local sales tax. We will provide the necessary reports for developers to provide to their tax professional.

Contact Us to Get Started

If you have any questions about The Anomalous Medical Product and Education Development (AMPED) Program, please contact David Donald, sales and marketing director, at 727-614-0122 or fill out the contact us form.